ment into the controversy which has produced the present situation. The settlement of that controversy falls strictly within the field of state government. It is not for me to confine myself to maintaining a status of good order until the state can re-assess its authority and resume the enforcement thereof. I am informed your legislature cannot be convened in time to deal with this emergency but has been summoned to convene on May 1, 1914. I shall expect you to draw the attention of the body to the imperative necessity of the immediate consideration of the whole situation and as prompt action as is possible in the premises in order that the use of the federal power may be limited within any contemplated confines and in order that the state may take up its duty as soon as it is possible to do so.

WOODROW WILSON
White House officials stated that the president had acted because all parties including the senators and congressmen from Colorado and the governor, the mine operators and miners as well had asked for the federal aid.

GENERAL BROWN'S QUICKLY
AGREES TO BACK UP
Trinidad, Colo., April 28.—General John Brown, in command of the strikers' military camp on the outskirts of Trinidad, who informed that federal troops were to be sent to the district, declared that his men would surrender to the regulars and lay down their arms.

WILD EXCITEMENT WHEN
FREE SHOES ARRIVE
There was much excitation about "General" Brown's headquarters but it was not over the reports of fighting or even the news of federal intervention. The excitement was due to the arrival of several boxes of shoes, purchased by the union for its fighting men. The effort to find men to fit the shoes resulted in endless confusion.

AMMONS PROCLAIMS COLORADO
IN STATE OF INSURRECTION
Denver, Colo., April 28.—The issuance of a proclamation by Governor Ammons to "all law-abiding and peace loving citizens" in Colorado "to give their moral and active support to the effort to restore peace in the strike districts" called attention today to conditions which the proclamation described as "a state of insurrection."

The proclamation declared that the state authorities had but one desire "to restore and maintain order" and declared that until this is accomplished "there can be no machinery to secure justice in the courts." The governor declared the militia, which had been in the field for nearly six months, are there "to restore law and order" and for no other purpose, and are not interested in the outcome of the strike. He cited the fact that until he left for Washington, about ten days ago, not a single person was killed by the militia because of the strike and only two altogether—one by accident and one fugitive from justice.

650 MILITIAMEN FACE AN
ARMY OF 2000 MEN
Trinidad, Colo., April 28.—A force of 650 militiamen, split into four divisions today was facing a body of strikers estimated at more than 2,000. The strikers' army was collected in Las Animas and Huerfano counties—the southern fields—in Fremont county, where on Sunday the Chandler mine was captured, and in Boulder county, the lignite coal field, far to the north.

Adjutant General John Chase divided the force of 200 men he had taken to Fremont county and went with 150 militiamen toward the northern field. The remainder of his small force stayed in Fremont county to protect a number of important mines. In Huerfano county 100 infantrymen and cavalry at noon were preparing to attack a force of some 100 miners, which last night captured the McNally mine and made a vigorous attack on the Walsenburg property of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

ONE POLE KILLED IN THE FIGHTING LAST NIGHT
George Rock, a Pole is the only man known to have been killed in the fighting last night. Rock was found dead today in a stone house on Seventh street in the town of Walsenburg. About 3 o'clock this morning strikers fired into the Walsenburg mine from the stone house and guards on "Water Tank hill" above the mine, replied. It is supposed this fire killed Rock.

MISS MAGGIE GREGORY, cousin of the superintendent of the McNally mine, shot through the arm. MIKE LENZINI, a store keeper, shot through the stomach; probably fatal.

WILL PRET, striker, shot through the leg. Shortly before noon the state troops left the Huerfano county court house and moved out to meet the strikers, who were scattered through the hills surrounding the town and the Walsenburg and McNally mines.

Battle Renewed at Walsenburg. Firing at Walsenburg suddenly began again late today when a state trooper was fired upon while on the way to the town from Walsenburg. The shot came from a house on Seventh street near the scene of the "Seventh street riot" which attracted considerable notice early in the history of the strike.

Will Clear Hills Today. Colonel Verdeckberg, in command of the Ludlow military camp, said today that he had proposed to drive the strikers out of the hills during the day. The troops at Walsenburg have no artillery, he said. Eighty men were sent from Ludlow last night. They belonged to Troop D and Company H, First regiment, "Troop C" came from Denver last night, stopping at Walsenburg. Colonel Verdeckberg said the firing had stopped. The strikers, according to his information, were about 100 strong and were about 100 yards from the mine office.

Chase Called to North. At Ludlow military camp word was received that General Chase with the men was preparing to leave Fremont county immediately for the northern Colorado coal fields, where a serious outbreak occurred last night. It was announced that the military authorities would invite the United Mine Workers to have witnesses present before the military commission which is investigating the battle of Ludlow, to fix the blame for the killing of women and children.

Real Battle at Walsenburg. The fighting at the Walsenburg mine began last night soon after the McNally mine had been captured by the strikers and its defenders driven out. The twenty-five Walsenburg guards took their stand on Water Tank hill above the mine, where the powerful searchlight installed by the company was operated. A heavy fire from the strikers on surrounding hills was replied to vigorously by the guards. During the fight at Water Tank hill the residents of Walsenburg were startled by reports of artillery. The guards had mounted on the hill two cannon made in the camp machine shops. The guns were constructed from 5-inch shafting with 3-inch hoists bored through.

Attack Feared at Primrose. A dispatch was received late today at the office of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company that the women and children from the Primrose camp had arrived at the strongly defended mine at Rouse. The message stated that Primrose had been warned of an attack by strikers.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE
FOR PROTECTION AT BOULDER
Boulder, Colo., April 28.—Armed by the attack on the Hecla mine near Louisville, which continued at 11 o'clock today business men of Boulder and Longmont were organizing volunteer companies to move against the strikers provided the peace commission sent out by the county commissioners failed to persuade them to end the fighting and maintain order.

At noon it was announced that all the arms and ammunition in the possession of dealers in Boulder, Weld and Larimer counties had been requisitioned for use of the citizen volunteers under orders of District Attorney C. A. Carlsson, who had taken charge of the situation here. Advice from these counties was given that bodies of citizens had volunteered for service and that the sheriffs of Larimer and Weld were waiting word to move on Louisville.

Word received here stated that the firing at the Hecla mine ceased shortly before noon. At a mass meeting here this afternoon more than 500 men pledged themselves to go into the Boulder county coal district at any time it became necessary to suppress disorder.

SENATOR THOMAS ADVISES
SENDING FEDERAL TROOPS
Washington, April 28.—President Wilson's first caller today was Senator Thomas of Colorado, who discussed the Colorado coal strike situation. Following his visit, the president and Secretary of War Garrison went into conference to determine what should be done about the request from Governor Ammons for federal troops in the strike district.

Sellers from September 15, 1913, until January 7, 1914, according to his allegations, has sued Colonel Sellers for a final accounting of the partnership. He says the firm did a great deal of business, and alleges that there is in the defendant's possession now about $1,225 beyond his share of the partnership funds resulting from collections. Mr. McDonald asks the court to grant an injunction restraining the defendant from collecting any more money on the partnership account or from applying any of the alleged partnership funds to his personal use pending the settlement.

MADERO'S RUINOUS RULE.
The story of the weak and ruinous rule of Madero has never been adequately told. It is enough to say here that he was the most colossal failure as a president that Mexico has ever known. In 15 months his government dissipated $50,000,000 and left in the treasury, when it went out of power, less than $100,000. Even this insignificant sum was scattered amongst the various departments and so was not available for immediate use. And with all this vast expenditure not one promise for the betterment of the people had been fulfilled, no public improvements were made, no educational systems built up, no extensions of commerce or industry were fostered. Peace was not restored, Mexico was continuously involved in internal strife and her business was wrecked, her credit impaired and her hope turned to despair. Madero was too weak to deal with the situation. The politicians were at work.

five minutes' notice, fully equipped for a long and severe campaign, according to Brigadier General John J. Pershing, who took over today the command of the United States troops gathered here. General Pershing said the troops had been supplied with thirty days' field rations and sufficient ammunition and supplies to carry them through any campaign the war department might deem necessary. General Pershing, who arrived early today with the last sections of the Sixth and Sixteenth infantry regiments from San Francisco, made an immediate inspection of the border patrols. He established his headquarters at Fort Bliss but the Sixth and Sixteenth regiments have been ordered to this city and are expected to remain here.

With the arrival of the two infantry regiments from the Presidio, San Francisco, the movement of troops toward this section of the border apparently has been completed, at least for the time.

Col. C. A. P. Hatfield, who has been in command here and who was relieved by General Pershing has been ordered to take command of the Second cavalry brigade, which is scattered along the Arizona border. Colonel Hatfield and the headquarters staff of the Second brigade will leave Thursday for Douglas, Arizona, where he will establish headquarters.
